JUNE 12, 2016—ELEVENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Pastor's Ramblings ...

More on Luke's Gospel for today June 13, 2016...

Jesus knew this woman who was a sinner when she anointed him.

Luke highlights Jesus' response to her by contrasting it with his host Simon's reaction. Simon reacts against her sinfulness, her impurity, her unrighteousness. Jesus, on the other hand, responds to her "great love" (7:47) by bringing to her the righteousness of forgiveness.

The Latin term In media res means "in the middle of." This story has a "in media res" feeling, as if we are dropped down into a scene with no back story. How are we to understand the woman's actions or Jesus' rather harsh response to Simon's estimation of her? The only way her actions make sense is if she had already met Jesus. The only way Jesus' words to Simon make sense is if we recognize how rude he had been to Jesus from the time he entered his home. We need notice all courtesies and signs of respect that were not given to Jesus as a respected guest in his host's home.

But we know now that she had met him before and that Simon had failed to meet him at the door. With the back story of both the woman and Simon in place, the story makes more sense. She had found peace in Jesus and came to thank him. Simon, preoccupied with the turmoil of restless judgmentalism that was his inner life, neglected the duties of a host to a respected guest. The woman was grateful, and Simon was rude. Simon's cynicism, some might say, could be justified on the basis of how that woman had been living, for she could not be called a "righteous woman." Over against that closed-minded rigidity, Jesus' creativity opens up a new future for that woman and for those present who caught from Jesus a glimpse of hope: for her, for themselves, and for the human race. Simon, who thinks he is upholding the "righteous" way of life, has not seen through the practical mundane and material actions of this woman to the "great love" that was the engine of her actions. If he had done so, he could have seen with Jesus that even this impure person could "go in peace" (7:50) as a forgiven person to whom a new future has been given.

This unknown woman had intuitively understood the spiritual uses of material things. More than that, she had acted on that intuition. Perhaps that is why, after commending her great love, Jesus concluded: "Your faith has saved you" (7:50). The leap of faith, as William Sloane Coffin has said, "is not so much a leap of thought as of action." That is, "first we must do then we will know, first we will be and then we will see."

*God's Blessings,
Fr. Al*

STEWARDSHIP AT ST. CECILIA

Stewardship is about recognizing and receiving God's gifts and sharing them proportionately and sacrificially. It's about following Jesus Christ. It's about conversion. "Stewardship is the grateful response of a Christian disciple who recognizes and receives God's gifts and shares these gifts in love of God and neighbor."

The Four Pillars of Stewardship put flesh to the spirit of giving and provide a great opportunity to set examples of stewardship opportunities in the parish. Some examples:

Hospitality: Coffee/Donuts; Greeters; Dinner;

Prayer: Sunday Mass; Prayer group; Rosary Group;

Formation: Catholic School; PSR; Adult Education;

Service: Food Pantry; PSR/RCIA

What it means to be an active steward: Attending of Sunday Mass and Holy Days of Obligations at the parish; Participate in the sacramental life of the church. Complete an annual pledge of time, talent, and treasure; Make and keep a good faith pledge of treasure, with a goal of 8% to the parish and 2% to other favorite charities.

Special Thank You to all those who anonymously donate cash, cars, services, etc., in times of need but wish to not be mentioned! There are many who faithfully support St. Cecilia Parish wishing no recognition.
